The Magic of Consciousness

The Association for the Scientific Study of Consciousness will have a very cool symposium during their 11th annual convention in Las Vegas this summer. Five of the more thoughtful members of the magic industry will speak on the perceptions of misdirection and other issues related to our cognitive understanding of magic.

Among the speakers...

- Teller, of Penn & Teller
- Mac King, headliner at Harrah's on The Strip
- James Randi, aka The Amaz!ng Randi, and Founder of the James Randi Foundation
- Johnny Thompson, of The Great Tomsoni and Co.
- Apollo Robbins, Professional Thief and Pickpocket

For the scientifically inclined, this seems like a fantastic opportunity to indulge the brainier aspects of why magicians can do what they do. If anyone is going to this, let us know at iTricksNews@iTricks.com.
